Kobe Bryant Workout Routine: 666 Workout

By Chris Davis - Jun 28, 2012

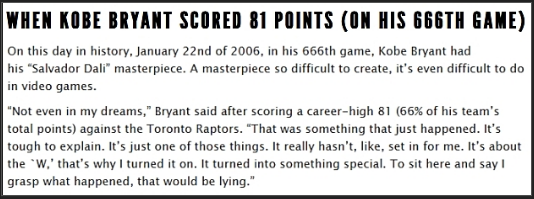
Kobe Bryant Workout Routine

The Kobe Bryant workout routine features a hefty mix of track work, basketball skills and weightlifting. His off-season workout has been called the 666 program because he spends 2 hours running, 2 hours on basketball, and 2 hours weightlifting (for a total of 6 hours a day, six times a week, for six months).

I am Jack's complete lack of surprise. (Note, I have never followed this sport/game.)



WHEN KOBE BRYANT SCORED 81 POINTS (ON HIS 666TH GAME)

On this day in history, January 22nd of 2006, in his 666th game, Kobe Bryant had his "Salvador Dali" masterpiece. A masterpiece so difficult to create, it's even difficult to do in video games.

"Not even in my dreams," Bryant said after scoring a career-high 81 (66% of his team's total points) against the Toronto Raptors. "That was something that just happened. It's tough to explain. It's just one of those things. It really hasn't, like, set in for me. It's about the `W,' that's why I turned it on. It turned into something special. To sit here and say I grasp what happened, that would be lying."

Game #666. A career-high score of 81. 66% of his team's total points. NBA's 2nd highest points score in history.
ZIONIST ENTERTAINMENT (corporate mass media) will likely be the death of the USA and its peoples.

Published: December 27, 1987

ATLANTA, Dec. 26— Dominique Wilkins scored 37 points and Cliff Levingston added a career-high 29 tonight to lead the Atlanta Hawks to a 125-98 victory over the New York Knicks.

Levingston, a power forward in his sixth season, also established a career high with 17 rebounds as the Hawks, who are 18-7, improved their home-court record to 11-1.

With Kevin Willis, a 7-foot Atlanta forward, out with a strained knee, Coach Rick Pitino of the Knicks changed his lineup and started Bill Cartwright at forward alongside Patrick Ewing at center. Pitino's goal was to match up the 7-1 Cartwright against the 6-8 Levingston. Plans Go Awry

Hyannis Port

July marked 20 years since the death of President Kennedy's son, John F Kennedy Jr. He was piloting a light aircraft to a wedding at Hyannis Port, but crashed into the sea en route.

Emergency services were called to the Kennedy compound on Thursday

Recall this from a few months ago. At the (masonic) Kennedy 'Hyannis Port' compound? Death via 666.
If religion was expanded via the printing press etc., what's stopping Satanism being expanded via electronic mass media?

Masonic JFK - who was buried at (masonic) Arlington.
"Arlington" is a word of significance in Masonic sorcery and mysticism and it has a hidden meaning
- which ties in with necrolatry (reverance for death). Downard/Hoffman, King Kill 33.

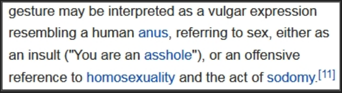
The Red '666' Devils. The 666 (OK) handsign gesture. They have (satanic) spirit, how about you? A-Levels.



gesture may be interpreted as a vulgar expression resembling a human anus, referring to sex, either as an insult ("You are an asshole"), or an offensive reference to homosexuality and the act of sodomy.[11]

Satanic, SODOM '666' Hell. The Devil's Evil 666 (Ass) Eye. The Red Devils, just like Man. United (homo men conjoined).

Peggy Whitson spends 666 days in space over the course of three missions, breaks record

New Delhi, News Nation Bureau | Updated : 29 April 2017, 06:20 PM

"I don't think about the records themselves too much, but when I do think about them, it makes me think about all the people that make it possible," she said. "There are an incredible amount of people at NASA who make it possible."

Related: Blue Origin unveils space capsule with 'largest windows in space

No one is touching her mark anytime soon. When she returns home, in September, she will have logged 666 days in space.

She said she wants to "squeeze every drop out of my time here," and she wouldn't rule out a future mission. But she said she may hold off so others in line can get to the final frontier.

"There are lots young people out there who need to have flight opportunities, too, and we don't have too many opportunities these days," she said.

NASA in Hebrew means "to deceive"!

5377 נָשָׁא nāšā', v. GK: 5958 [→ 4860, 4876]. [N] to be deceived; [H] to deceive:– deceive [7], deceived [4], greatly deceived (+5377) [2], beguiled [1], seize [1], utterly forget (+5382) [1]

Even the word 'Trump' - can be interpreted as 'to deceive'.
Trump (v.2) "fabricate, devise," 1690s, from trump "deceive, cheat" (1510s), from Middle English trumpen (late 14c.),
- from Old French tromper "to deceive," of uncertain origin.

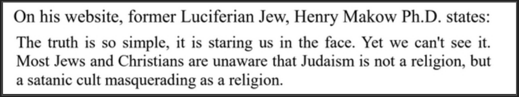
Where are your church/religious bretheren - to EXPOSE all this (obvious) shit that is right under your noses?
Where have they been while this satanic Jew USARY enslavement program went nuclear? Answers on a postcard, please.



On his website, former Luciferian Jew, Henry Makow Ph.D. states:

The truth is so simple, it is staring us in the face. Yet we can't see it. Most Jews and Christians are unaware that Judaism is not a religion, but a satanic cult masquerading as a religion.

Pity then, that the USA is a slave nation under the yoke of Rothschild's (impostor) satanic Khazar Israel.

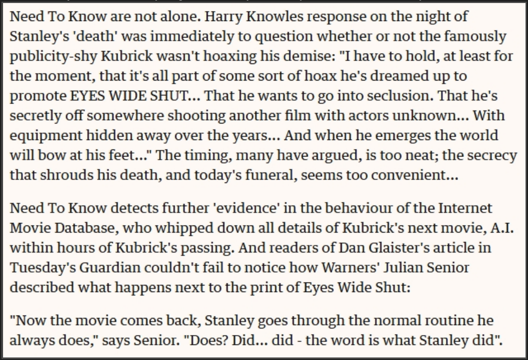
Kubrick rumours alive and well

Hush Hush is pleased to be able to report that the Internet is fighting hard to retain its hard-earned reputation for paranoia and obsessiveness. Yes, those Stanley Kubrick conspiracy theories are up and running. We're proud and priviliged, though, to add that this website has had a hand in churning the rumour mill. Many parties (step forward the Need To Know e-mail newsletter, for it is you) have interpreted our thoroughly uncharacteristic misspelling of Kuberick's (sic) name amid the woe and chaos of Monday morning as a coded declaration of the great man's continued rude health.

I KNOW the above is true. I read the Mar. 1999 Guardian article myself (at the time) & noted the name error, Kuberick (sic).
The sort of DELIBERATE name error that might suggest that something else is actually being communicated.
It's just as well that my long-term memory is still very much intact. I still vividly recall this.



Need To Know are not alone. Harry Knowles response on the night of Stanley's 'death' was immediately to question whether or not the famously publicity-shy Kubrick wasn't hoaxing his demise: "I have to hold, at least for the moment, that it's all part of some sort of hoax he's dreamed up to promote EYES WIDE SHUT... That he wants to go into seclusion. That he's secretly off somewhere shooting another film with actors unknown... With equipment hidden away over the years... And when he emerges the world will bow at his feet..." The timing, many have argued, is too neat; the secrecy that shrouds his death, and today's funeral, seems too convenient...

Need To Know detects further 'evidence' in the behaviour of the Internet Movie Database, who whipped down all details of Kubrick's next movie, A.I. within hours of Kubrick's passing. And readers of Dan Glaister's article in Tuesday's Guardian couldn't fail to notice how Warners' Julian Senior described what happens next to the print of Eyes Wide Shut:

"Now the movie comes back, Stanley goes through the normal routine he always does," says Senior. "Does? Did... did - the word is what Stanley did".

Recall that JFK Jr's plane went down on the release of Eyes Wide Shut (7/16/99), and likely while the film ran.

We'll have to see what happens with the coronavirus. A drive for mass vaccination (I mentioned vaccine Gates in the previous post), a catalyst for global economic collapse (used as a type of cover), a bio-weapon, an over-hyped distraction (a la SARS, Ebola, etc.), or who knows what? I won't rule out US led bio-warfare either - a virus to target this ethnic group. The trade war and Hong Kong provocateurism is proof that the Zio-US has, and is, in attack mode. The markets may have to brace themselves for Monday (and next week). Friday saw a sell-off. DJIA dropped over 600 pts (-2%+). Time will tell. The Bond yield curve is flattening/inverting again.

Bank REPO is still on fire, likewise FED buying-up debt. Melt-up financial armageddon has in recent months been ticking-over nicely (note, as I predicted). This market (built on mass debt/money printing) will only collapse when they decide the time is right. The masses will be decimated. What would make this interesting would be if they collapsed it just prior to the 2020 election! At this point though it looks more likely to be after. Impeachment is effectively over and the Dems have succeeded in giving Trump a major boost for 2020 - which was the point of the entire exercise. The DNC's job is seemingly to make sure Trump wins in 2020, and they keep-on delivering. You have NO political choices - the left/right paradigm is a Zionist fomented useless eater trap. 2020 has certainly started with a bang.

"J.P. Morgan has a $6 target on it, I'm going to put a $6.66 target on the stock. It's a weird, weird coincidence. We all remember that the lows in 2009 on the S&P 500 was 666. Well the closing low in GE back then was also $6.66. That's kind of a weird coincidence, but the real reason I'm worried about this is with a stock like this, it's not a situation where the baby's being thrown out with the bath water," Maley said. The region around what would later be first called "Shibboleth" was a summer home to the Sioux and Winnebago nations. The first settlement was made at Shibboleth in 1853 at the confluence of the Winnebago River and Calmus Creek. The town had several names: Shibboleth, Masonic Grove, and Masonville, until the name Mason City was adopted in 1855, in honor of a founder's son, Mason Long.

That's why SO MANY people, both mainstream and alternative - have no clue to as to what is really transpiring.
Without this understanding - THEY NEVER WILL.

Could be an IDEAL opportunity to crash the global economy and blame it on the agency of a disease, rather than human agency (CB/FED, etc). The latter being the real and actual cause of this financial armageddon. The virus and panic also leading to mass vaccinations which is where the real danger lies. My confirmation bias leads me this way, but currently it's only possibilities to consider. Time will tell.

The above is potentially unfolding, as previously outlined in advance.
We could be entering an endgame here. Will we see a third straight day of major drops, or will it rally?
If down, then it's 5 straight days of drops. Rate cuts are already incoming. Let's see where we go from this point.

666 Trump has made claims that the virus is a HOAX?
Ha! The REAL HOAX are the markets themselves - the ones he's helped shamelessly inflate!
He's desperately hanging onto them. It's what you should expect from a third-rate game show host posing as POTUS. :)

Bubble pop (fizzy pop) via Corona? Geddit? Orange, just like Trump. Think markets. Fizzical or Fiscal Wreck?

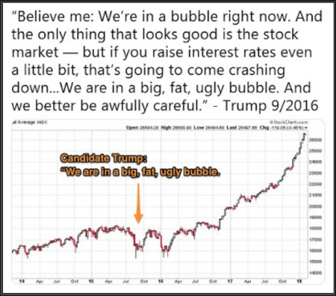
UK readers who were children of the 1970s will recall collecting empty Corona bottles for the deposit refunds. :)



"Believe me: We're in a bubble right now. And the only thing that looks good is the stock market — but if you raise interest rates even a little bit, that's going to come crashing down...We are in a big, fat, ugly bubble. And we better be awfully careful." - Trump 9/2016

Remember when 666 Trump (as candidate) told the truth? Yeah, seems like aeons ago now.
So then, why did Trump then make this same bubble go nuclear under his stewardship?
And don't give me that crap that he is trying to destroy the Fed (via the back-door) for 'the people'. Laughable.
Trump IS deep state - and anyone one who says otherwise is still BRAINWASHED. Bank this.
"They hate him." "They'll do anything to stop him." - these sheep will cry. They probably think the virus has been unleashed to topple him. These people are the most psychologically played of all. Totally lost in a fantasy that they refuse to wake-up from.
Clutching at straws barely describes it. Trump has ALWAYS been a total POS. And he certainly hasn't disappointed in that regard.
He, and his 'Zion hell' admin have long been totally exposed.

Thurs. 27th Feb

DJIA - saw a new record set in terms of a single day's point drop. Down 1,191 points. (Note, in terms of points.)
Beating the Feb 2018 mark of 1,175. The previous record pt drop being preceded by the drop of 666.
6 days of back-to-back drops. Mon & Tues combined points carnage being the worst two day pts spell ever.
The last hour of today's trading was absolutely brutal though. Any upside resistance is quickly being engulfed.
As for Friday. With things unfolding this way - who'd want to hold positions over the weekend with these types of risks?
Bond yields are also cratering - the 10 yr is at record lows. Money leaving the markets.

Fri. 28th Feb

Anyone watching the last 10 mins of yesterday's trading saw the insane manipulation by the FED (600+ pt swing). They rolled-out Powell to calm things (an hour or so earlier) - which it did for about 5 minutes, then it was all south again. This then likely led to the huge intervention at the close. Staunching the market to -357 pts. Note, rate cuts and monetary injections ARE NOT the correct medicine for what's unfolding. Rate cuts won't make people go out and spend, attend big events, repair supply chains, or travel as normal, etc. The FED'S tools are useless in this regard. Once actual effective testing begins (it hasn't even started yet!), we'll then see rises in US cases. This could be just the beginning. So it's on to next week. Latest - China's manufacturing output just hit record lows. Ouch!

Mon. 2nd Mar

A massive rally for Monday - up 1,200+pts. We noted the FED intervention late on Friday, and they followed through for Monday. We might call it "Manipulation Monday." This was against a worsening virus outlook - now spreading in the US, and with already 6 deaths registered in WA. Also up against the OECD global ecomonic output forecast. The potential for a 50% drop in global output. All very stock positive news (sarcasm). The rally was sold under the premise of: "the hope for more rate cuts." (which was already a given imo). So, folks. If you didn't already know that the market is FAKE - you certainly do now. Are we to believe that potentially cutting rates and adding more QE - that this will somehow be effective against collapsing supply chains, locked-down cities and populations, and limited travel both locally and internationally, etc. A sucker's rally before another hard drop down later in the week - or the FED to the rescue? We know that the virus spread is merely just beginning in the US, so we'll soon likely be seeing the wider effects of this.

No more updates.

Lack of interest in the issue at hand means no more updates will be forthcoming. Thanks and goodbye.

Does anyone get the feeling the democratic party's sole purpose right now is to guarantee a Trump win?
In other(unmentioned)news, thousands of jobs lost in an free-falling economy whose only future is the pavement. Every day I see and hear news about a clothing retailer or major outlet closing stores, often permanently. It is amazingly haunting to see the number of north american shopping malls slowly die off in the last five years. Even in my small town, stores close and food prices get hiked up ever so incrementally. The only thing more surreal about all this is how everyone around here acts like nothing is wrong, even with the crime rates here starting to become frequent enough to warrant some hint of notice. Everyone's in a complete daze with that "I'm o.k with all this" mentality.

Horselover Phat 5 February 2020 at 10:37

Yes, anon. I mention this in the post body. From the impeachment to the caucuses. The DNC's role is SEEMINGLY to pump Trump's reelection, just as the FEDS role is to pump the (debt built) fraud markets...and then call it REAL economic growth/success. Anyway, this whole debacle is an epic crime of monstrous financial proportions - the likes of which have never been seen. It's unprecedented.

Oh, and you couldn't be more correct re: the following: "The only thing more surreal about all this is how everyone around here acts like nothing is wrong."

This IS the proof that we're in zombie no-man's land. The masses/group have little to no idea about ANYTHING in respect of REAL ECONOMICS. They are mere Pavlovian dogs pre-salivating on the imminent bell-ring from their beloved MSM. They know EVERYTHING about the trivial - see sports, cult of celebrity, etc. They know virtually nothing of any actual import. This is by design.

Thanks for making comment.

Being unfamiliar with black swan theory, I had to look up what a black swan event was to get the meaning. Given what most of your decodes end up revealing, I initially thought it had something to do with the fact that black swans are some of the gayest animals on this green earth.
There's an article here (https://panique.com.au/trishansoz/animals/black-swan.html) that talks about how a third of all black swans are homosexual, most often male pairings. Knowing enough about Hollywood Land, it would not be surprising in the least if this fact was any kind of inspiration for the main character in Inception having the ridiculous name of Cob.

This new year of the rat is indeed off to the races with one heck of a start. I appreciate you keeping those of us out of the loop up to speed on the ongoing insidiousness, as ugly as it can be to watch. It all checks out, along with what some others are highlighting, like the US (s)election day 2020 being 999 weeks from Sept. 11 2001.

Ha, ha. I thought I'd seen the last of you. Not that I would blame you if you had. I'm relentless with this stuff. Anyway, this blog has been like a vacuum without your input, but with even less atmosphere than that. The 'black swan' thing is something I've picked-up on in recent history. It's readily bandied about in respect of economic/financial markets - shocks leading to collapse, etc. This is the primary context that I'm using it in. I keep abreast of finance blogs/videos, and I couldn't help but notice how many people were using the term and waiting on one. It's this that led to the post after the Bryant thing. The reason I built it around the Bryant death is due to the massive fall-out in the aftermath. I'm intrigued by these reactions and the scope/size of them - and the effect on the group mind/psyche.

I didn't know barely anything about Bryant. My only sniff of him coming about around the so-called sexual scandal or whatever. I recall his name from back then.

Hey, Bingers. As you can probably tell from the content and my demeanour within it - I've sort of blown-out. Kind of reached the end of my psychological tether, as it were. There's no need for concern though. I'm just having fun with it - taking the piss now. That sort of thing. My way of middle fingering this situation.

Funny you should mention 'Inception'. I've still not seen it. However, it is the last film that I saved to the TV set box - a couple or more weeks ago.

Thanks for the useful info provided. You've always provided valuable input, more than anyone could hope. Is that exactly 999 weeks to 2020 (s)election day 2020? Very interesting if that's the case.

It's really, really great to hear from you again, Bingers. It's made my day tbh. All the best to you and yours. :)

'Economically speaking' - I can hardly believe what has transpired under Trump.
The US (and globe) is so far in the financial twilight zone that it's actually beyond insane. I came from an accountancy/finance educational background, so I've always had a footing in this area. What the central bank(s) has been doing is utter, utter madness - 'the people' likewise. I never thought I'd ever see anything remotely as bonkers as this, but here we are. Trump has completely inverted his campaign promises (none moreso than in respect of the economy etc) yet there is no-end to the MAGA kool-aid drinking.

The feeling continues to be mutual. I enjoy contributing here way more than any of the other research projects I follow, and would've jumped back in the commenting saddle sooner if it weren't for work, weather, and illnesses joining forces to wreak havoc with my autoimmunity, in what seems like a concerted effort to take me down for the count. The worst is far enough behind me I'm not worried about jinxing myself by saying as much, though there is a lingering sense of dejection I'm experiencing that's been keeping me unusually taciturn. I'm hoping that too will pass and I can pick back up where I left off.
Rest assured it's not your uncompromising attitude keeping me away. Ever impressive as your talent is, it's the style I find most enjoyable. I can understand how it might put some off from reading, but I can also see a necessity in it when dealing with the abhorrent subject matter you cover so explicitly. Along with the well-seasoned ability to call things ahead of time, I'd say it's the relentless nature of your approach what sets you apart from your contemporaries.
It's a fun breath of fresh air for me to read probably because of how relatable it is. I don't take part in social media, I've never watched a basketball game, and had little idea who Kobe Bryant was outside of the report of sexual assault, which I only ever heard about by way of the late rheumatoid arthritic stand-up comedian Sean Rouse https://youtu.be/ZqVOLvNf0Aw?t=1m31s
The title of a symbolic black swan event is apropos. I've heard the expression come up in discussion of the virus since learning it here, so hats off for keeping me informed. The advantage gained from hearing your take on things is inestimable at this point. If I can make your day with just one brief comment, I owe you at least a few dozen more - the way I see it. Be prepared for plenty of contributions headed your way as I readjust myself back into the spin of things, especially to show gratitude for the link to Dave Ramsey in the previous post. You're a true hero to Team Bingo for that tip.

If it wasn't for your goodself I would've given-up writing this stuff ages ago. I cannot and could not do this in a vacuum. Please take that as a massive compliment, not an admission of duty. You are literally the only entity that I feel I can openly converse and exchange ideas/concepts with. I've virtually given-up on effective social intercourse with people. My tolerance of others is completely shot. I've typically been poor with social interaction, but it's gotten worse. I do find this sort of writing a type of burden though. I think I always have. I do go to the extreme - in terms of what I write, but I think you have to. You have to at least to be able to entertain the idea of the worst and beyond. I HATE doing this writing in many ways, but I think it's a necessity. That's where the duty element comes in. What I've been doing here is the very thing that I am most accomplished at. My own type of pattern recognition. That's the simplest way to describe it. It is the greatest skill that I possess. I've put more mental effort into this blog than any and all jobs that I've had combined. There's a type of drive involved that I don't fully understand, but I can't contain it. And the result is this kind of writing - I just throw it out there. It's not a useful sort of skill imo, not in the sense of what the actual net result is. I can't say that I am exactly winning with this. Not that that is the primary objetive, of course.

I had ideas about some of these very things though, even as a child. Presented reality being a type of construct, being fascinated by the group/mass mind, wondering how money was created etc. That type of stuff. I've almost am insatiable appetite for wanting to know things, always have had. I guess I wasn't a typical child in that sense, but I thought everyone thought like I did. Although that was a laughable assumption in hindsight. It took me a long time to appreciate how different I was/am, but I'm under no illusions now.

You don't 'owe' me anything by way of comments. I'm neither a borrower or lender be. You know I'm not that keen on usury. ;) You're the 'engine' of this comments section. You've been an absolute lifesaver with your presence on the blog. I cannot overstate that enough. Whenever I've doubted what I'm doing, or wish to want away from what I'm doing (out of frustration) - you've always popped-up to the rescue. Not that you'd fully know any of this. Just know that this really is the case. I don't know how this transpires, it just does. :)

Anyway, in respect of the post subject in hand. if you look at the last couple or so posts back you'll see me making reference to various 'catalysts'. I mentioned Hong Kong/China, Iran, impeachment etc. I talk about all of them as potential catalysts for bringing about an engineered collapse. This thing with the virus falls into the same category. They need a way-out of this central bank and economic oblivion hell - a way that potentially sees the real culprits off the hook. That's why this virus issue can't be discounted. At least not yet.

These are certainly the maddest of times, Bingers. The air is thick with overt insanity in so many regards. The waters have rarely been choppier. Keep-on helping me navigate them. You know it makes sense. :)

Vaccine stocks are tripling. Commodities are expected to rise especially Bitcoin. However if there isn't any solid proof of many deaths from the corana virus especially within the USA this virus hoax will unravel soon enough.

It's NOT so much the virus itself, but the effects of the virus on the global chains and logistics etc. Not meaning to be terse, but you've completely missed the wood for the trees in respect of the former.

That said, it's still good to keep an open mind in respect of all this. Much is still to be played-out yet. If there is a major spread to the U.S. though, I can see the nation imploding far more readily than most. We might even see martial law under Trump if things get out of hand. Of course, if this blows over - we should expect the markets to pack-on higher and higher.
